

Name: _____ Class: _____

Sarracenia purpurea has short traps that hold a mixture of digestive enzymes and rainwater. Bacteria and microscopic organisms break down the drowned prey which help the plant obtain nutrients. Flowers of Sarracenia grow on long stalks. Different species of bees are attracted to the flowers and help in pollination.

What's in a name?

Latin: purpura = "purple"

International Carnivorous Plant Society